

IMCA AWARDS 2022

Nominations now open

2 Categories available

Closing date 31 January 2023

IMCA Annual Awards 2022

Following the success of the introduction of IMCA awards in 2018 we now running this awards programme covering two areas on an annual basis. IMCA believes this is an ideal opportunity for Members to showcase their initiatives in the areas of:

- Environmental Sustainability Award
- Safety Award

How to enter

You can submit one or more entries for each category:

- an entry for a specific environmental project or a grouping of environmental projects and/or
- an entry for a specific safety initiative or a grouping of safety initiatives or.

For each submission:

Mandatory requirements:

1. Abstract of up to 150 words describing the award entry.
2. Up to 500 words describing/illustrating the tangible impact on business and industry.
3. Submit data demonstrating the impact of initiative – this element is essential to demonstrate influence or effect.

Optional:

4. Provide a more detailed explanation of no more than two pages of text explaining the initiative and showing the results including photographs or visual illustrations.

Entries submitted in previous years are permitted providing further developments and benefits of the programme can clearly be measured and demonstrated.

Closing Date:

The closing date for submission is 31 January 2023

Please submit your entry to: communications@imca-int.com

Criteria for the Environmental Sustainability Award

The judging criteria will include matters such as: advancing environmental sustainability and improving performance in the offshore industry the scale of environmental benefit; innovation; commitment of the workforce; social and economic benefits; quantification of the improvements; and the possibilities for future development.

Criteria for the Safety Award

The judging criteria will include matters such as: the visibility and promotion of safety with the workforce; successful adoption and buy-in by the workforce; improvement in safety behaviours; improved safety performance; and the possibilities for future development.

Terms & Conditions

All entries must be made with the full knowledge and co-operation of the member company.

IMCA will appoint a judging panel which may comprise representatives from the Board of Directors, Chair or Vice Chairs of both the HSSE and Environmental Sustainability Committee and the Secretariat. The panel will assess all entries and draw up a shortlist of three (maximum) finalists. The judges' decision is final and binding; no correspondence will be entered into. The finalists will be notified by mid February 2023..

The finalists and winners agree to take part and assist with any promotional activities supporting the awards. Winners will be announced in Q1 2023. Visit www.imca-int.com for full details.